

SINGAPORE

Singapore is in fact one of the most enjoyable cities in Southeast Asia!

Merlion

The Merlion was designed as an emblem for the Singapore Tourism Board (STB) in 1964. The designer was Mr Fraser Brunner, a member of the souvenir committee and a curator of the Van Kleeef Aquarium. The Merlion has a lion head and a fish body resting on a crest of waves. The lion head symbolises the legend of the rediscovery of Singapura, as recorded in the "Malay Annals". In ancient times, Singapore was known as Temasek, a Javanese word for sea. In the 11th century A.D, Prince Sang Nila Utama of the Sri Vijaya Empire rediscovered the island. When the Prince first landed on Singapore's shores, he sighted a mystical beast which he later learnt was a lion. The Prince then decided to name the island "Singapura" which in Sanskrit means Lion (Singa) City (Pura). The fish tail of the Merlion symbolises the ancient city of Temasek and represents Singapore's humble beginnings as a fishing village.

Sentosa

One of the city's livelier spots is undoubtedly Sentosa, a sun-kissed paradise in the tropics which has more than enough attractions and activities to delight everyone! You can learn about Singapore's past at the heritage centre, enjoy the lush greenery at the nature park and explore the themed attractions, which are dotted all over this island.

Singapore Flyer

If it's an unbeatable "rooftop" view of the Singapore skyline that you want, hop on board the Singapore Flyer, our very own observation wheel which stands at a staggering height of 165 metres. As the capsule you're in ascends, you may even catch sight of our closest neighbours, Malaysia and Indonesia.

Resorts World™ Sentosa

Resorts World™ Sentosa is a collection of six hotels and attractions with fun-filled offerings for the entire family. It is home to Southeast Asia's first and only Universal Studios theme park, the world's largest Marine Life Park, a destination spa – ESPA and a designer casino decked with exciting gaming opportunities. Six unique hotels complemented by creative meeting facilities, world-class shows and public entertainment, as well as celebrity dining and shopping options at FestiveWalk complete the experience.

Singapore Zoo

Another sunny spot to head down to is the Singapore Zoo. If you're early, you can catch breakfast with an orang utan, or lend your shoulder to an affectionate python. These are just a few encounters you'll get at Singapore's highly acclaimed 28-hectare "open" zoo which houses over 3,200 mammals, birds, reptiles and fishes.

Universal Studio Singapore

Universal Studio Singapore is opened 2010!

Night Safari

If you're an animal lover but can't bear the heat of the midday sun, take a trip to Singapore's Night Safari to enjoy wildlife under the moonlight. The night zoo is home to 900 over animals of 135 unusual species, and simulates tropical landscapes such as the African savannah, Nepalese river valley, Southeast Asian rainforest, South American pampas and Burmese jungle.

Boat Quay

The older cousin of Clarke Quay has an enduring buzz from the after-work crowds who unwind at the pubs and elegant restaurants here. It was the original spot for sampans (small wooden boats) to load and unload goods at the Singapore River, where early Singapore made her fortunes.

Clarke Quay

This used to be a warehouse district on the banks of the Singapore River. Today, it is a magnet for hip restaurants, hot clubs and beautiful people. Architectural buffs will want to see how the cluster of restored buildings is covered to let the sun and stars in but none of the rain.

Newton Circus

The king of Singapore hawker centres, with its history, range of dishes, and ideal location near Orchard Road, makes this a stop for many Singaporeans showing their overseas friends around. Many famous hawker stalls had their start here.

Little India

So few streets but so much character is packed into this area known for its migrant feel and food from all parts of India. Choose from North Indian tandoori fare in air-conditioned comfort to South Indian vegetarian comforts.
